

Center for Digital Inquiry and Learning (CDIL)

Digital Scholarship Fellowship Program – Fall 2018

Description: The CDIL Digital Scholarship Fellowship program provides time and assistance for faculty members in the College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences to begin or continue exploring digital means for publishing or accomplishing their research. Selected Fellows will receive a course release during the Fall 2018 semester to enable them to work with CDIL staff and faculty in the pursuit of a digital scholarship project or the development of digital scholarship expertise.

Outcomes: At the end of their terms as CDIL Digital Scholarship Fellow, faculty members will have completed major parts of their digital scholarship project, which will lead to online publication of the project via CDIL's web platforms and/or a publication of some kind detailing the results of said project. Fellows will also be required to present on their respective projects in the CDIL facility, either as a traditional presentation or as a workshop. This program is designed to help faculty develop new skills and to promote digital scholarship across campus via publications, presentations, and workshops.

Who is eligible: CLASS tenure track or tenured faculty.

Deadline to apply: March 9, 2018

Number of awards: 2

Nature of the award: Each Fellow will receive a course reassignment for the Fall 2018 semester. Funding is provided for these reassignments by the Office of Research and Economic Development (ORED), CLASS, and the Library.

Duration of program: Fall 2018 Semester

Review process: Four members of the CDIL will review applications and recommend awards to Dean Lynn Baird and Dean Andrew Kersten. They will make the decision on awards based on the committee's recommendations. The committee will judge applications based on the overall promise of the project proposed, as well as the project's fit with the capacities and goals of CDIL.

Application: See the following page for instructions on the application.

Questions? Contact Devin Becker at dbecker@uidaho.edu

CDIL Digital Scholarship Fellowship Application Format

Submit PDF or Word file to Devin Becker (dbecker@uidaho.edu) including the following:

1) Title page

Please use the title page provided on the following page, filling out your own name and rank, and including signatures from yourself and your chair or director.

NOTE: Applications are required to have signatures from the Chair of the applicant's department.

2) Proposed research agenda

In 1-2 pages, please summarize your proposed digital scholarship project. Please indicate the current state of your research, the types of technologies and technical expertise you will need, and project how you envision the project will be designed and delivered, noting any opportunities for future publications resulting from the project and/or grants you might seek to support the project.

3) Curriculum vitae

No page limit. Attach with the application materials listed above or send as a separate document.

CDIL Digital Scholarship Fellowship Application

Fall 2018

Applicant's Name and Rank (printed)

Applicant's Signature

Chair or Director's Name (printed)

Chair or Director's Signature