Please Grand mother, i need a farm to live on and call my home, with some land, and a garden and some chickens, and an orchard, a few goats, maybe.

I would live there with Peter and my friends Rosamonde and Mary and we would store food for the winter. we are already canning blueberry and blackberries.
We would can salmon too and hunt in the hunting season so we would be nearly self supportive. We would get goats with and eggs too. We might keep rabbits but they are very good to eat, but i hate to look animals up in little cages so we wouldn't unless we have a big pen. And we'd have a stream on the property, or a spring, and every day we would go fetch water there and swim in it in the morning and our head would just feel so clean. And we would have a root cellar where to store the produce of our garden and a room, full of canned goods that we canned ourselves. And we would get a whole lunch of wax and make lots of candles because we wouldn't have power of course.

And in the summer time we would hay and store our hay in the barn which would be waterproof of course so that when the houses come down from Prince George ~~where~~ we would have hay (Mary is the house girl from the free school, you know?).

And we would have 2 or 3 rooms to create in for claying pottery and painting and leather work and carving and all those things which are so good to do.

Please Grandmother, I know it would cost a lot, but buy me a farm.
